Foreword

SHE had so many children she didn't know what to do." It is from the contrast of these "children of the shoe" and the "children" of Pittsfield High School that we derive our theme, "Nursery Rhymes." Our "shoe", a mighty building, holds within its walls that happiness and simplicity of life which is symbolized by our childhood rhymes. Our "old woman," our teaching staff, differs from the guardian of the shoe, for our guiding faculty knows and has known what to do; that is, to guide us, the Class of 1948, to a successful and happy life.

Through the theme "Nursery Rhymes" we have tried to relate in the 1948 Dome the story of our carefree years in this "shoe of many children."

MISS MADELINE E. PFEIFFER
Literary Adviser to the Yearbook Staff

Dedication

 O Miss Madeline E. Pfeiffer, we, the Class of 1948, wish to express our deepest gratitude for the long hours she has patiently and unselfishly devoted to the success of many of our school activities. It is her sound advice, keen perception, and untiring labor that have inspired the staffs of The Student's Pen and Yearbook to whatever success they may have achieved. To Miss Pfeiffer, we dedicate this Yearbook in the hope that we may show her how very much we appreciate her efforts in our behalf.

MISS MARGARET KALIHHER
Faculty Adviser to the Class of 1948

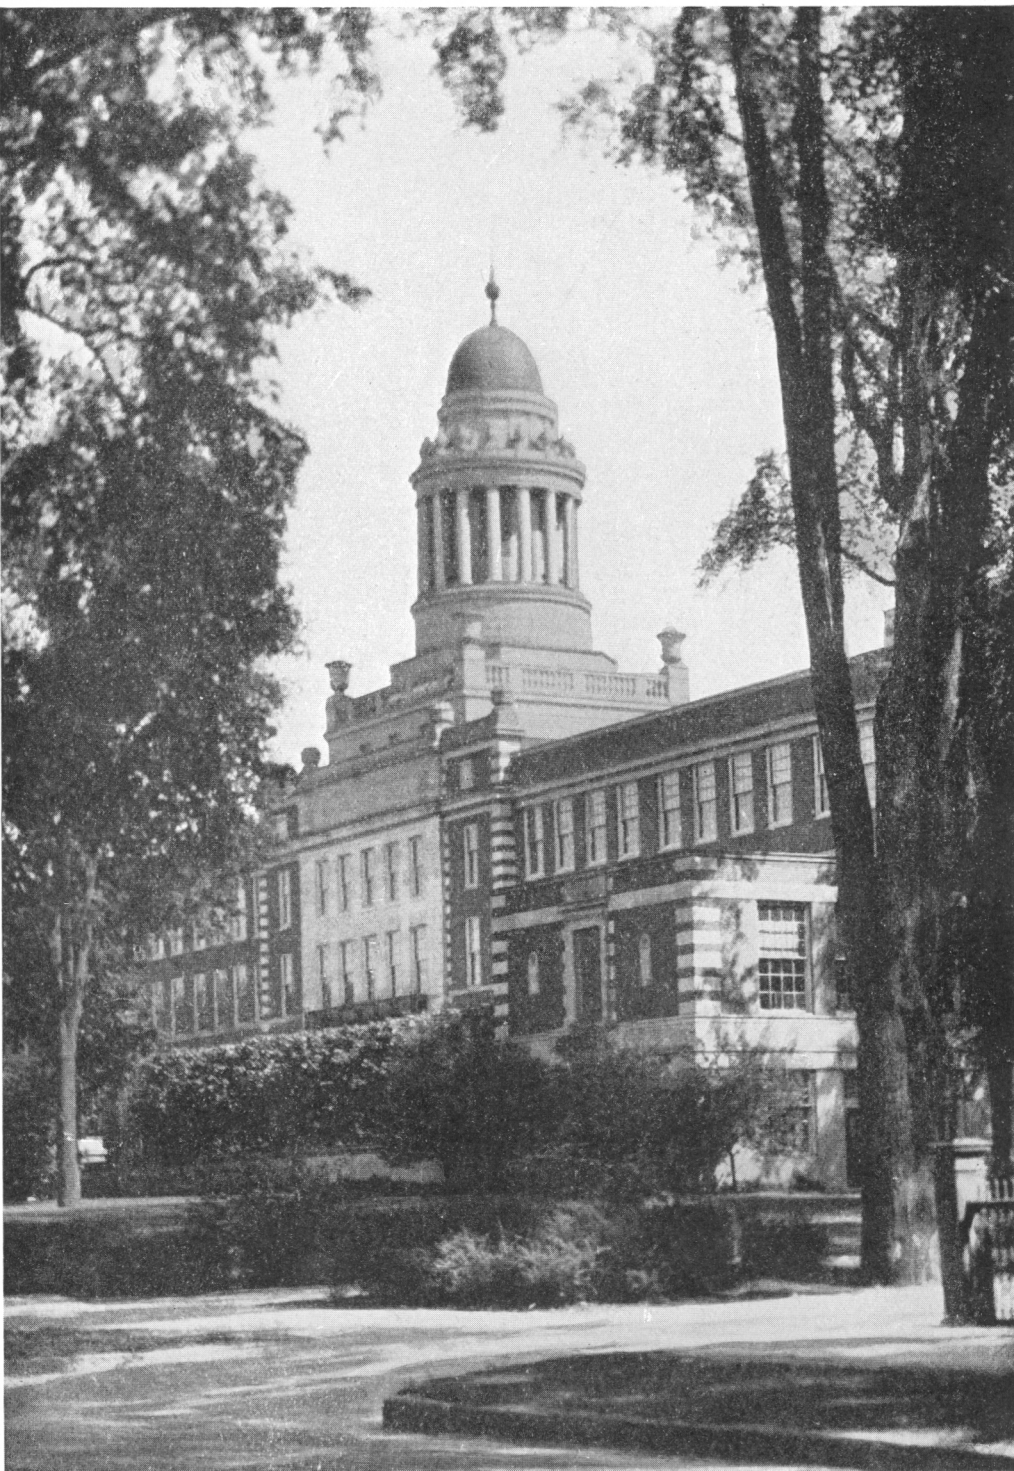

Tribute

To Miss Margaret Kaliher we, the Class of 1948, express our deepest appreciation for the understanding advice and assistance in our many activities through which she has guided us.

O, Miss Kaliher is a merry, merry soul.
And a busy adviser is she.
She's helping with a dance
Or an operetta gay
Or she's teaching U. S. History

*W*ITHOUT the understanding guidance and wise counsel of Mrs. James W. Beahan, the girls of the Class of 1948 could not have faced their educational problems with assurance. To her we extend our sincere gratitude.

MR. CORNELIUS McMAHON
Senior Class Counselor (Boys)

Within the Walls

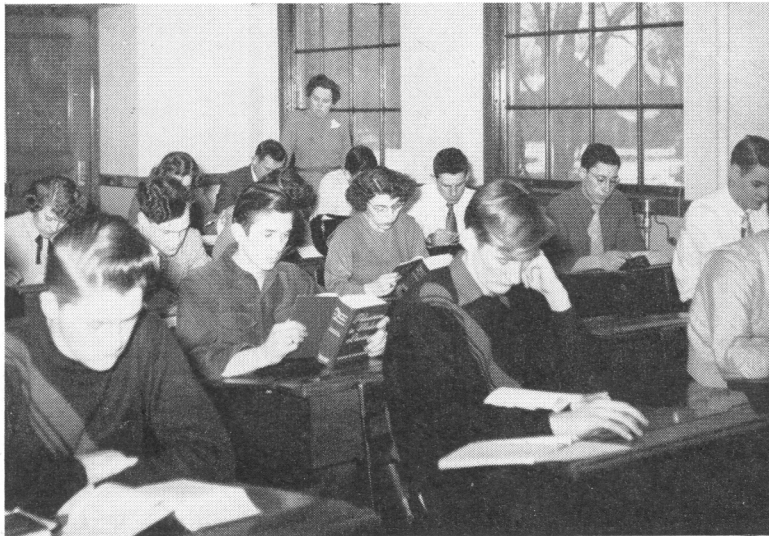

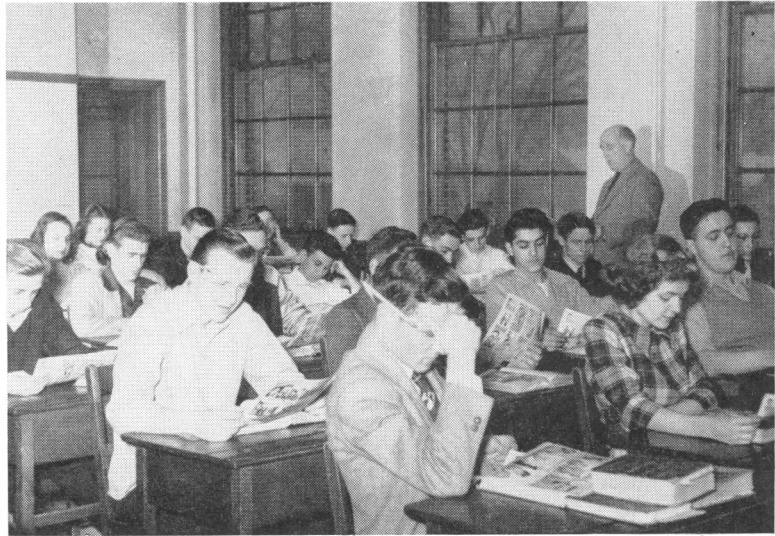

*Boys and girls, come leave your play;
Let's go to classes all the day.*

UNITED STATES HISTORY

*Old King Cole was a merry soul
With his jolly fiddlers three;
But his kingdom isn't on the map,
Nor his reign in our history.*

ECONOMICS

*We are the ones who now do learn,
In Mr. Maloney's room,
The business of the great, wide world,
Which we shall be running soon.*

ENGLISH

*With backs bent and eyes intent,
They gaze upon the page.
Perhaps they will be authors great

LATIN

*"Aeneas, Aeneas, where have you been?"
"I've been to Tyre to visit the queen."*

ITALIAN

*They gaze intently at the board
And learn what they do see;
For they want to be prepared
When they go to Italy.*

GERMAN

*What are they doing, these maids and lads?
They study a language that's strange.
Der Lehrer, die Wandtafel, das
Buch will help
To bring it within their range.*

SPANISH

*Fifty minutes every day,
Five times a week,
Soon we'll know the language
That the King of Spain did speak.*

HARMONY

*Sing a song of six pence,
Music in the air.
When you work for Mr. Gorman,
You have to work with care.*

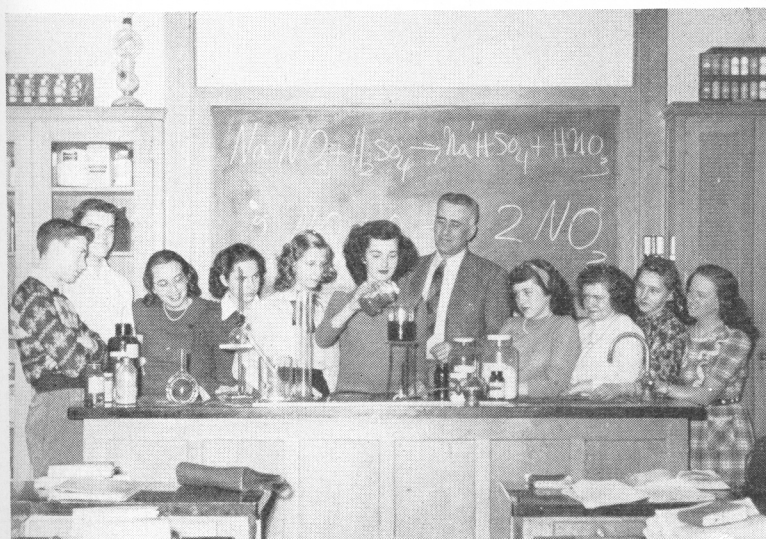

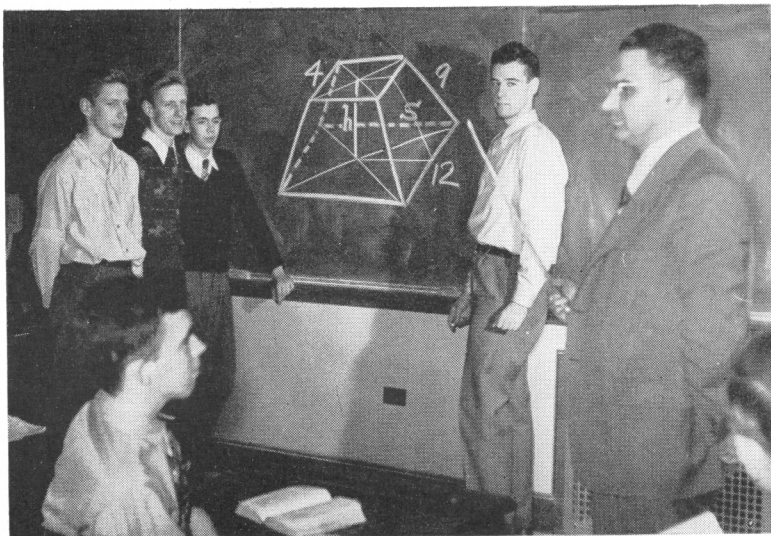

ART

*Every line has been made with care;
The colors are blended in well.
There is no need to frown with despair,
For these pictures our genius tell.*

SENIOR MATH

*The frustrum before us is not a puzzle
To the four boys standing here,
For it isn't the lines and numbers
But the pointer that they fear.*

CHEMISTRY

*Ding, dong, bell,
Lime is in the beaker.
Who put it in?
Why, of course, the teacher.*

LIBRARY

*If we have half the knowledge
That's in our library,
When we get to college,
We'll amaze the faculty.*

RETAIL SALES

*Daffy-down-dilly is new come to town
With a green petticoat and bright yellow gown
She'll take a lead in the spring parade
If she's backed by a course in the Retail Trade.*

SEWING

*Needles and pins, needles and pins,
This is the place where fashion begins.*

COOKING

*Twinkle, twinkle, go his eyes
When he tastes your lovely pies.*

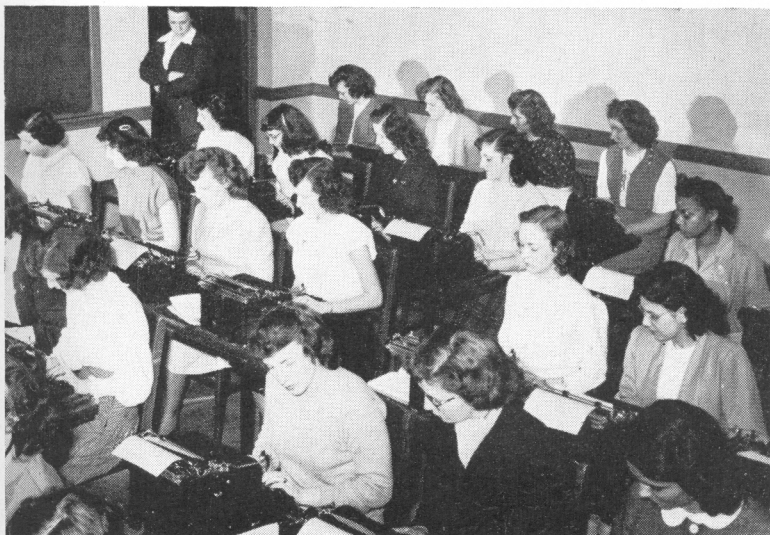

OFFICE PRACTICE

*Mary, be nimble, tap the keys.
After you practice, your work
will please;
But now your job is to learn the way
To secure success on a future day.*

TYPING

*Tap, tap, tap, the rhythm fills the air;
'Tis no traveler that knocks
upon the door,
Or horse that paws the open floor,
But the girls that type in each chair.*

STUDY HALL

*Seniors, seniors never shirk,
In study hall they always work.
Serious mien with eyes on books,
This is the way a senior looks.*

MACHINE SHOP

We put it together and took it apart.

We finally finished, but where did we start?

BLUE PRINTING

*Watch out as you work;
Watch all that you do;
Watch out as you work,
Or you'll be Boy Blue.*

AUTO BODY

*What a wreck we see before us!
What a sight that greets the eye!
Cheer up! The boys that are before us
Will have it bright and clean and spry!*

SHEET METAL

*In it goes, out it comes
Without scratch or fracture;
Anything that's made of tin
We can manufacture.*

DRAFTING

*"Mister, mister, what are you doing?"
"I'm drafting plans," said he;
"I'm drafting plans for a great big ship to sail across the sea."*

CAMERA CLUB

*The picture was taken with such great care,
With so much speed and ease.
By the little man who did his job
And always aimed to please.*

STUDENT'S PEN

While you are reading "The Student's Pen"

*After a day of labor and stress,
These are the ones who are not relaxing,*

For another edition is going to press.

MOTION PICTURE CLUB

Motion pictures, motion pictures

*Filled with thrills and terror;
We'll award the Oscars
And never make an error.*

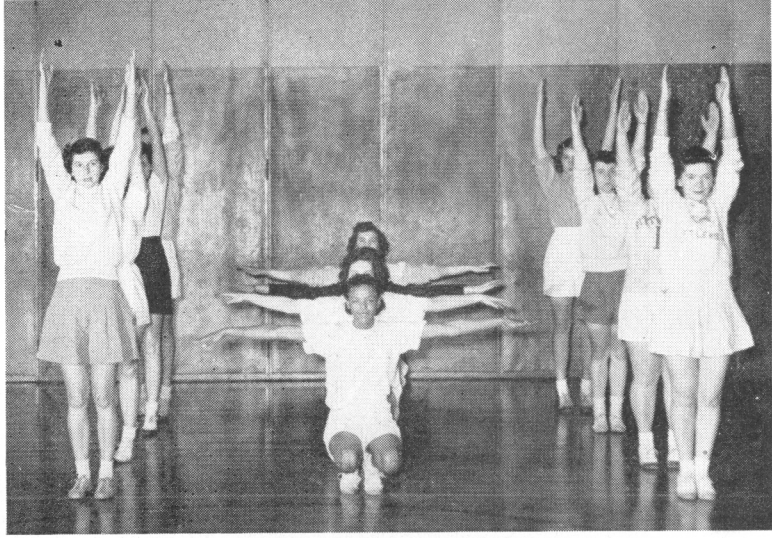

YEARBOOK

Here is the staff that did the work

*To get the Yearbook done;
They labored hard but tackled the job
As if it was really fun.*

GIRLS' GYM

*Stretch, stretch, stretch,
Our labors never end
And what is the reward we get?
A stiff back that just won't bend.*

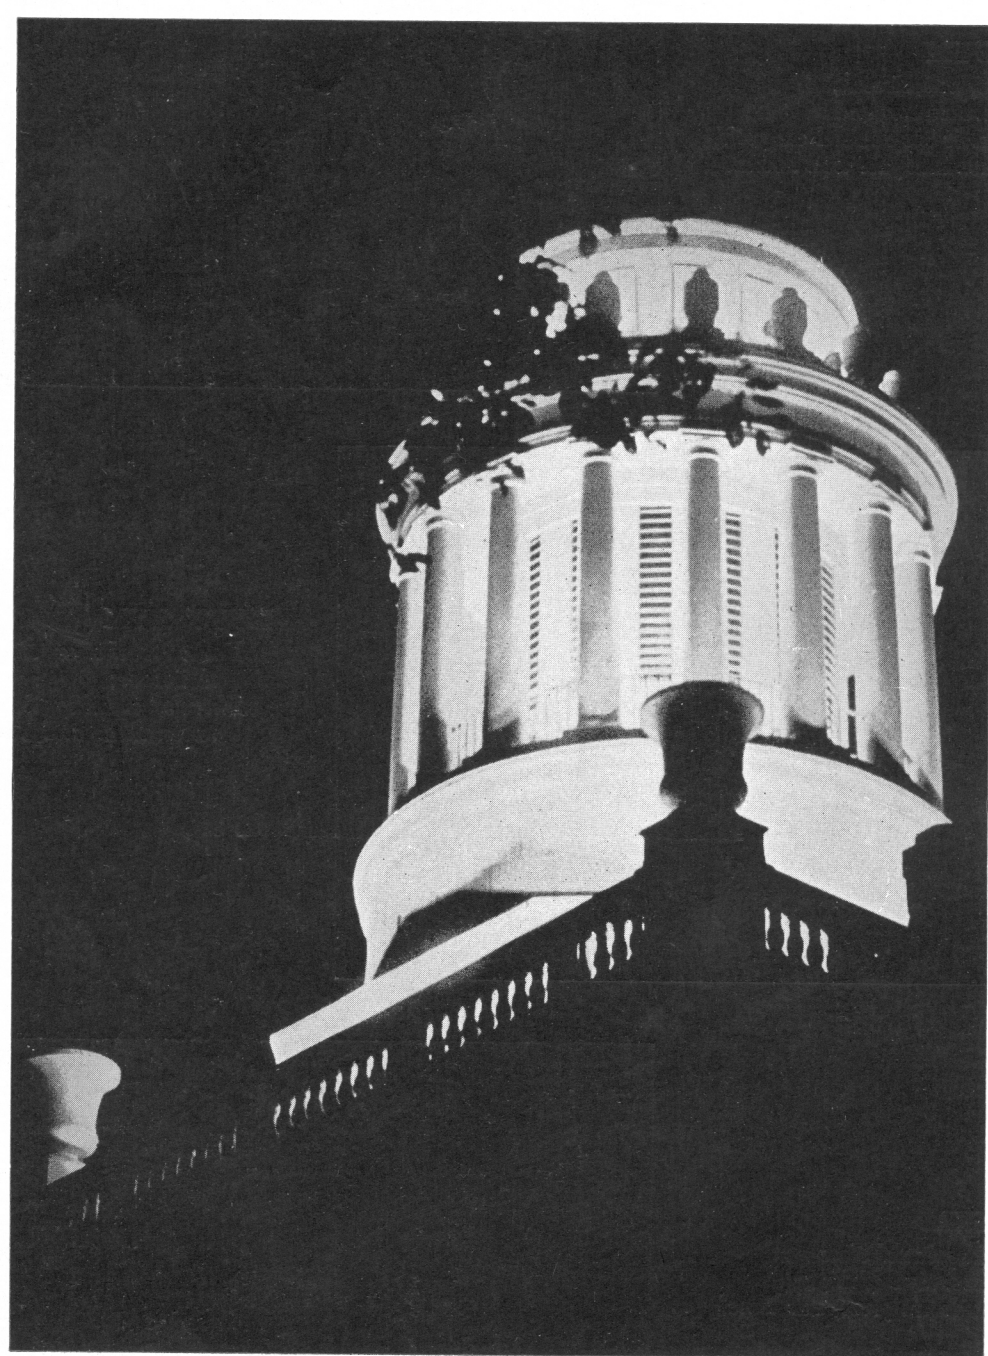

BOYS' GYM

*Don't breathe or talk or open that door;
There's nothing but air between them and the floor.*

CAFETERIA

*Lunch time, lunch time
Pleasantest time of day;
Our friends we greet, our lunch
we eat,
And drive dull care away.*

The Class Will

BE IT REMEMBERED: that we, the Class of 1948, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound mind and memory, but knowing the uncertainty of this life, do make this our last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills by us at any time heretofore made.

After payment of our just debts and class dues, we bequeath and devise as follows:

To:—

Mr. Strout: A P. H. S. diploma. By now we think he deserves one.

Miss Parker: A reminder that "When girls are good they are very, very good; but when they are bad, they are better."

Mr. Moran: An infra-red ray lamp to detect faulty signatures on excuses.

Mr. Carey: A portable radar set to find his golf balls.

Miss Millet: The hope that September's seniors will be at least half as good as the departing members of 1948.

Miss Bulger: A geometry book with no optionals so the editors will have to think of something new for next year's yearbook.

Mr. Herberg: A Schick-Injector razor.

Miss Madden: A Greyhound bus to transport all the cheerleaders to and from games.

Miss McNaughton: A nickelodeon.

Miss Kennedy: A subscription to Sport Magazine.

Mr. Massimiano: A class of thirty-five militarily trained pupils, all prepared to "Hit the rat-line" and "Carry the banner."

Mr. Gorman: A student who can sing the Alma-Mater in Greek, while accompanying himself on the tuba.

Mr. Larry Murphy: An audition with Spike Jones.

Miss Casey: A gum machine to be installed on her desk.

Miss Jordan: A portable step-ladder for her wall-phone.

Coach Fox: A team in any sport that will play some very hair-raising games.

Coaches Carmody and Stewart: A hand-pump for the basketballs.

Miss Kaliher: A private secretary as efficient as Miss Kaliher herself.

Miss Pfeiffer: A decoder that will change some of the slang she encounters to good, old King's English.

Mr. Maloney: A book on American burlesque, his classes hear so much about the subject.

Mr. McKenna: A baby carriage with four wheel drive so he can keep up with his wife while she is shopping.

Miss Prediger: A neon sign that lights up and reads:—Who, when, where, why, and what were the results?

Andrei Vishensky: A course in how to say “Yes” in fifty-five different languages.

Mr. Joyce: A receptionist.

Miss Conlon: A rootin’, tootin’ cowboy to round up all those Latin ponies.

Miss Hodges: A red pencil that won’t wear down.

Mr. V. Molotov: A bicycle to ride out of the U. N. meetings.

Mr. Leahy: A book on sarcastic speech and patter.

Mr. Lynch: An “A” student named Sam Hill.

Mr. Davison: A scientific thesis on the physical potentialities and mechanical functions of a BB

Mr. Hennessey: A money belt in which to keep the receipts of the games.

Miss Kaliher’s History Students: A New York Times with a full section of comics.

Mr. Lynch’s classes: Hearing aids.

All the faculty advisers that so efficiently aided the Class of 1948: Our thanks and some South Seas travel folders (they probably need the rest).

All future captains and their teams: Lots of luck and many victorious games.

All future cheerleaders: More leaders as capable as our own Marilyn Burke.

The Juniors: We say, “Just follow our example and you’ll graduate before the sophs.”

The Sophomores: We leave the thought that when you reach the top of the ladder, the only direction to go is down.

In testimony whereof we, the Class of 1948, here declare this to be our last will and testament drawn up on this fourteenth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight, in the presence of:

Little Miss Muffet

The History of the Class of 1948

In fourteen hundred and ninety-two
Columbus sailed the ocean blue;
In nineteen hundred and forty-five
Pittsfield High began to thrive—
Thrive in a sense of rejuvenation—
Thrive, for it met a new generation.

Our history is short—wherefore we need
But a few short lines to boast of our deeds.
No longer was there a war to be won,
For long ago had the battle been done.
The classes before us fought for and gained
A peace which must be forever maintained.

Sophomores were we in the fall of the year,
Whose hearts were full of hopes and of fear—
Hopes of the great, successful semesters,
Fear of the seniors—our stern oppressors;
But our hopes grew dim and our fears soon died—
We began to take P. H. S. in stride.

Sophomore Year, 1945-1946

September—Pittsfield High met a new group of sophomores (the best yet) who felt that they must claim the distinction of having brought the first Student Council with them.

October—Big thrill—Hallelujah! Our first legal entrance to the Oasis.

November—The slaughtering of St. Joe in the final game somewhat brightened an otherwise dismal football season. Of course, our sophomore stars held the limelight throughout the campaign!

December—P. H. S., naturally led by the sophomores, gloriously fattened the United States Treasury through a Victory Bond drive. (Let us not forget our Christmas vacation).

January—Resolution time! We vowed faithfully that when we became seniors, we would show the sophomores consideration we had never experienced.

February—Those seniors presented Patience, but the performance couldn't possibly have been successful without the then shrill voices of the sophomores.

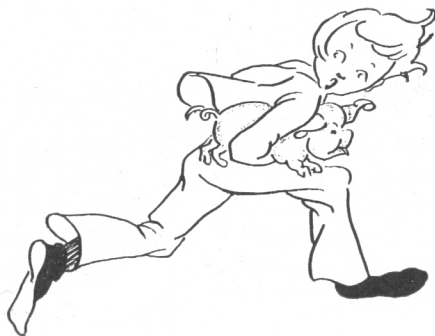

March—Mr. Strout was honored by a celebration of his twenty-fifth anniversary as Principal of P. H. S. Our envy of the seniors was augmented by having one of them present a gift of appreciation (or was it sympathy?).

April—The sophomore Easter parade—first double-breasted suits and high heels. Result: boys—overbloated chests; girls—many twisted ankles.

May—Wishfully, hopefully, we watched the preparations for the Junior Prom (naturally from the side lines).

June—Good-bye to those seniors.

Report cards came due four times in the year;
Some sophs were elated and some shed a tear.
Day after day, we explored new places;
And one fine night we found an Oasis!
But glory and honor we could not find
As our sophomore year we left behind.

Junior Year, 1946-1947

- September—Whew—Juniors! Neither powerful nor powerless, we started a blissful year as a forgotten class.
- October—Juniors began getting into shape to carry the brunt of a much-hoped-for successful football season. The cheerleaders with their new uniforms made quite a hit;—they were Juniors, obviously.
- November—As predicted, the Juniors came through.
- December—Christmas vacation—wasn't it awful to be away from school for two whole weeks! "Rumors were flying!"—It was said that high school boys didn't look in their stockings Christmas morning to see what Santa Claus left them. Now it was who!
- January—Those (new) seniors presented H. M. S. Pinafore. Need it be said that the Juniors were outstanding?
- February—Oh, boy! what a basketball team! How could they ever have gone undefeated without our Juniors?
- March—Junior Class officers began work to make "us'ns" the pride and joy of P. H. S.
- April—The Junior Easter parade—a return to low heels and single-breasted sport coats.
- May—"Now, coach? Can I play now?" Off the sidelines now, for it was our Junior Prom.
- June—The years of suppression were gone! The next year we were to be these seniors.

On a day gone by, we thoughtfully gazed;
In our expanding minds new thoughts were raised.
The years of oppression now in the past,
Domination as seniors came at last.
Forgetting the vow that as sophs we made—
Seniors are we—let no sophs dare invade.

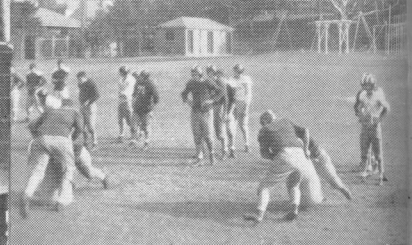

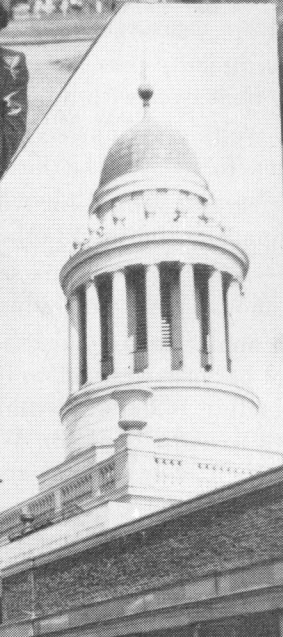

Senior Year, 1947-1948

- September—P. H. S. opened its portals to the finest group of Seniors it had ever been honored with. Are we ever conceited!
- October—News flash! That “new look” fell upon P. H. S. Result: many boys threatened to wear knee-length pants.
- November—P. H. S. football squad climaxed a successful, though up and down season by bidding sports writer Roger O’Gara a fond, “So there.” (O’Gara picked St. Joe over Pittsfield—you know the score.)
- December—Vacation time! Our minds were developed to a point where Christmas gifts would have to be restricted to two classes: somebody or something. Yes, we all got Junior atom bomb sets for Christmas!
- January—Wow—what a month!—preparation for the operetta, yearbook material, class pictures, cap and gown measurements, Maplewood essays—it sure was rough!
- February—The Mikado, proudly presented by these Seniors in the hope of equalling the 1940 performance, went over with a bang.
- March—We were still waiting for our second class ring order to come through, when another group of hopefuls sent in the third order.
- April—With small anxiety we waited for word from the Treasury (P. H. S. Treasury that is) as to our financial status. In other words, our dues had to be paid up!
- May—Special bulletin—many Seniors were seen visiting their teachers. They were worried about getting enough points to graduate!
- June—That big month finally came—our graduation! Will it ever be said that P. H. S. was a better school because we went to it? We would “give our eye teeth” to think so, for we must all admit to ourselves and the whole world that we were made better citizens because we went to P. H. S. With our heads high and our “hearts in our mouths,” we bid adieu to our school and to those who helped to make these the happiest years of our lives.

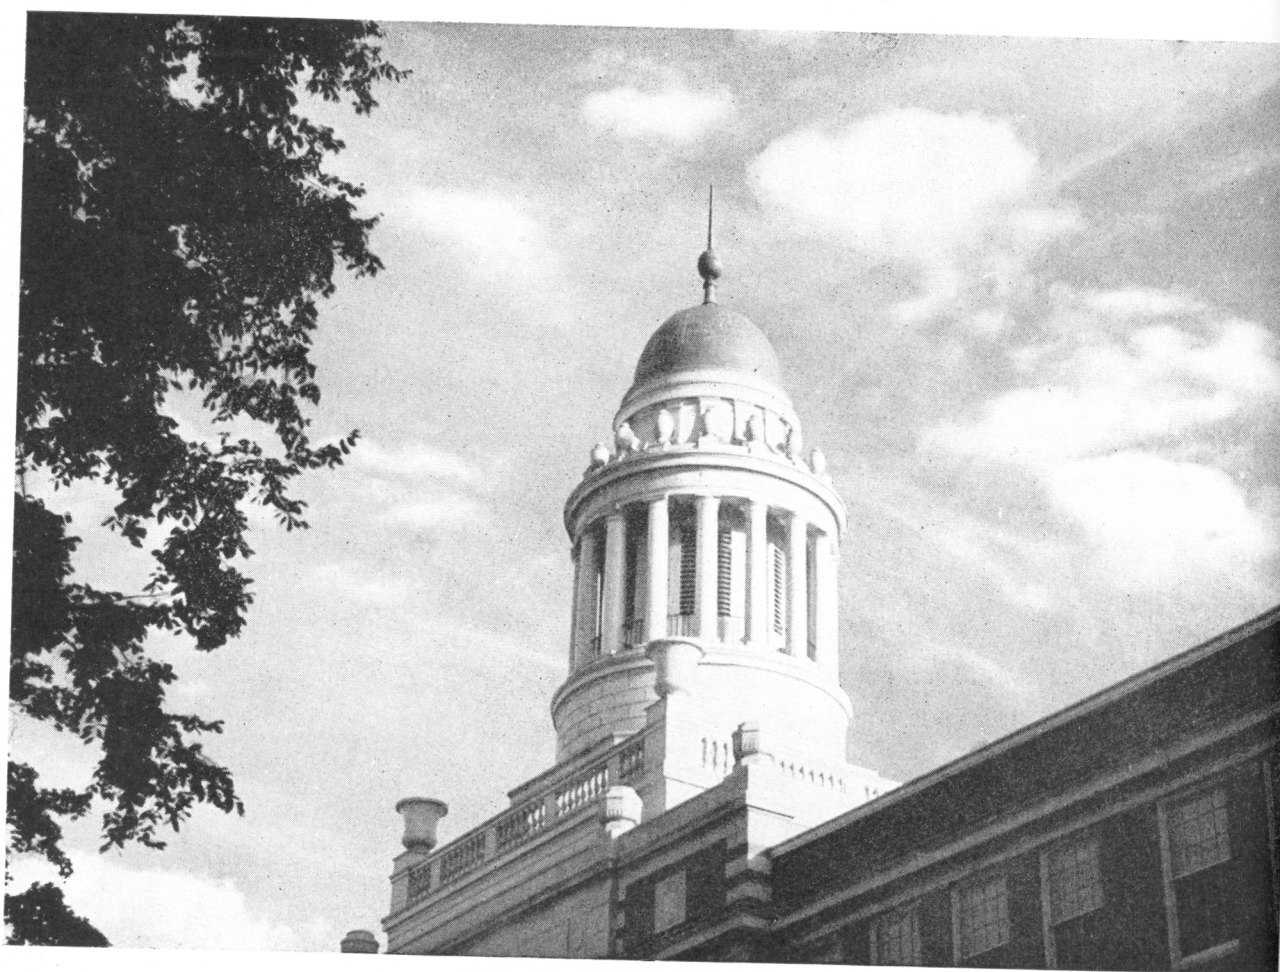

Out of the cradle, now where shall we go—
Schools or jobs that will make our minds grow?
Three years of security now behind—
Three years to remain undimmed in our minds.
So ends the history of one more class
As under dear P. H. S. portals we pass.

Alma Mater Song

Words by Esther Kierstead '38 and Friend Kierstead, Jr. '39

Tune: "All Through The Night"

Guardian elm trees cast their shadows
O'er thy ivied walls;
Sons and daughters ever loyal
Throng thy honored halls.
Pittsfield High School, Pittsfield High School,
Alma Mater dear,
Help us to preserve thy honor
Through each coming year.

Great has been thy former record,
Greater will it be,
As the future generations
Sing their praise to thee.
Proud are we who through thy portals
Into life do pass;
Help us ever to be worthy,
Each and every class.

CAST AND CHORUS OF "THE MIKADO"

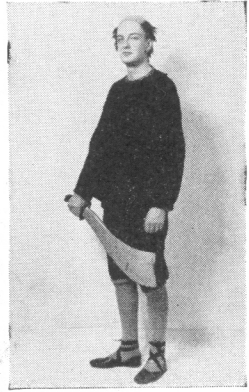

POOH-BAH

YUM-YUM

KATISHA

KO-KO

“The Mikado”

ON February 12 and 13, 1948, as the curtain opened with the singing of “If You Want to Know Who We Are”, our annual production of Gilbert and Sullivan began. “The Mikado”, a comic opera about Japanese life, featured Carolyn Burt, playing the role of Yum Yum, and Robert Perkins as Nanki-Poo, who excellently provided the romantic interest. Elizabeth Jensen as Katisha, Spencer Smith in the part of Ko-Ko, and Anthony Gallo as Pooh-Bah certainly made the most of their humorous roles. As Peep-Bo and Pitti-Sing, Mary Delaney and Marian Fisher were perfect little school girls. Edward Kanter portrayed Pish-Tush superbly, and as for the Mikado himself, no one could have played it more majestically than did Abraham Alpern. Both the choruses and the orchestra gave magnificent performances and completed the success.

Special credit is due Miss Margaret Kaliher, our class adviser, who spent so much time in helping prepare the operetta; Alice Cowley and Dominic Diczenco, the efficient co-chairmen; Betty Dunn, concertmistress; and Bruce Williams, accompanist.

Our class will always be indebted to Mr. F. Carl Gorman, director, for his time and untiring efforts. Without him we would have been unable to produce “The Mikado”.

Junior Prom

ONE of the gala events of our junior year was the Junior Prom, which took place May 23, 1947. For the occasion, the gym had been transformed into a bower of blossoms in accordance with the theme "April showers bring May flowers." Five hundred students and guests danced to the lilting strains of Dan Barzie's orchestra or sought to have their dreams come true at the Wishing Well.

In charge of the Prom were Mary Granfield and Warren Preble, co-chairmen, and the following assistant chairmen: Eleanor Lynch, decorations; Marjorie Harrington, invitations; Fred Tregaskis, music; Doris Smith, program; Earl Sutor, publicity; Betty Jensen, posters; Harvey Robinson, tickets; Edward Strauss, checking; Jane Nesbit, refreshments. Due to the efficient work of this group the Class of 1948 and their guests had a memorable evening.

Christmas, 1947

We of the Class of '48
Had a tree to decorate.
We found the bulbs, tinsel, and pan,
And then our troubles all began.
But we trimmed with such grace and ease
That ours was the loveliest of all trees.

PITTSFIELD High School again this year won the Berkshire Interscholastic ski title for the sixth successive time.

During the week-end of February 13, the ski team went to Bethel, Maine, to compete in the New England Interscholastic, where they took ninth place.

Two weeks later, on February 20 and 21, the team took seventh place in the Eastern Interscholastic at Woodstock, Vermont.

We hope, in years to come, the team will keep up the good record as it has in the past.

Rear Row—Perrone, Chapman, Sheridan, Soutier, Verchot, Gaylord, Dwyer, Leonard, Kerichenko, Lovelle, Coach Carmody.

Absent—Capt. Arpante, Brennan.

P. H. S. Hockey Team

THE Pittsfield High School Hockey team, after a slow start, came to life in the last few games, playing with rejuvenated spirit and improved passing ability.

The team fought a hard season to end with five wins, three losses, and one tie. Both coaches and players feel that this was a highly successful year.

Trusses fitted by experienced operators. Consultation at any time but fitting done by appointment only—except in Emergency. A case may be simple or it may present time consuming difficulties. Either type merits the undivided attention of the fitter and the unhurried time of both wearer and fitter. The truss should not cause its wearer appreciable discomfort which, if present, usually indicates faulty fitting or the use of an unsuitable model. Such a condition should be promptly corrected as an incorrectly fitted truss may do more harm than good. For maximum protection a truss should be replaced within two years. Advice and adjustments are yours for the asking. We make no charge beyond the initial cost of the appliance which in single trusses regularly stocked ranges from $3.50-$10 and in double trusses from $6.50-$18. Replacement parts are at catalog prices and special design models according to manufacturers' quotations.

Other surgical appliances: Elastic-abdominal post operation, sacro-iliac-ptosis (fallen stomach), obesity and abhoric supporters. Elastic stockings, knee caps, anklets, writers, stretcher bandages (non-elastic), shoulder braces.
